Ohio Secretary of State Frank LaRose's Statement Regarding the Latest Constitutional Amendment Filed

(Columbus) – Frank LaRose issued the following statement today regarding the latest constitutional amendment filed with the Ohio Attorney General’s Office:

“As I’ve predicted for months now, the assault on our state constitution is just beginning. We haven’t even certified the results of Tuesday’s election, and the radical left has already filed paperwork to strip critical legal protections from law enforcement. This amendment threatens to unleash a flood of frivolous, politically motivated lawsuits against the brave men and women trying to protect our communities. Good luck trying to hire new officers if this amendment gets adopted. If only we had a requirement that would ensure a broad, bipartisan consensus of Ohioans before something like this gets jammed into our state constitution. We’ve got a radical abortion amendment coming in November, job-killing wage mandates on small businesses aimed at next year’s ballot, and now an anti-police amendment that’s just been filed. The attempt to turn Ohio into California is officially underway.”
